The extraordinary life of Dr. Lobna Allam is a testament to the power of resilience, determination, and the indomitable spirit of women.

Born in Cairo, Egypt, in 1956, Lobna grew up in a conservative society that placed strict limitations on women.

Despite these challenges, Lobna excelled in her studies and earned a degree in medicine from Cairo University. After completing her medical training, she moved to Australia in 1985 with her husband and young children.

In Australia, Lobna faced a new set of challenges. She had to learn a new language, adapt to a new culture, and find a way to balance her career and family life.

Undeterred, Lobna threw herself into her new life. She took English classes, volunteered in the community, and eventually started her own business.

Over the years, Lobna has become a successful businesswoman and community leader. She is the founder and CEO of Allam Medical, a leading provider of healthcare services in Australia.
