The sleepy bulldozer parks himself in the dirt, while the yawning excavator curls up in a pile of rocks. The cement mixer snores softly, and the dump truck dreams of hauling away all the day's work.

One by one, the construction vehicles find their cozy spots and drift off to sleep. The crane swings gently in the breeze, the backhoe hums a lullaby, and the front-loader snores peacefully.

As the moon shines brightly in the sky, the construction site is finally quiet. The construction vehicles are all sleeping soundly, dreaming of a new day of work and adventure.

Goodnight, goodnight, construction site. Goodnight, goodnight, little dreamers.
