The SAS Regiment is one of the most elite special forces units in the world. It was founded in 1941 by David Stirling, a young British officer who had a vision for a new kind of warfare. Stirling's idea was to create a small, highly trained unit that could operate behind enemy lines, carrying out sabotage and reconnaissance missions.

The SAS was first deployed in North Africa, where they played a vital role in the Allied victory. They then went on to fight in Italy, France, and Germany, where they continued to carry out daring and successful missions.

The story of the SAS Regiment is one of courage, determination, and innovation. It is a story that has been told many times, but never in such detail and with such authority as in this book. The Story of David Stirling and the SAS Regiment is the definitive account of one of the most famous and respected special forces units in the world.
